

U.S. Department of Justice

Office of Justice Programs

Office of the Assistant Attorney General

Washington, D.C. 20531

MAY 21 2009

Dear Colleague:

I am pleased to inform you that the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP), a component of the Office of Justice Programs (OJP), has awarded funds to your state that were provided by the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (Recovery Act) of 2009. A full list of allocations is enclosed.

These grants were awarded through OJJDP's Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) Task Force Program Grants. The funds will be used to maintain and expand state and regional ICAC Task Forces to address technology-facilitated child exploitation. The ICAC Task Forces work collaboratively as a national network of law enforcement and prosecutorial agencies that prevent, interdict, and investigate Internet crimes against children. The procedure for allocating ICAC Task Force grants is based on the PROTECT Our Children Act of 2008.

The grants are part of more than $4 billion in the Recovery Act for state and local law enforcement and other criminal and juvenile justice activities. Under President Obama's leadership, and in partnership with Congress, the Recovery Act is injecting $787 billion into the economy, providing jobs and much needed resources for states and local communities. OJJDP will administer $50 million in grants to support the ICAC Task Forces.

Additionally, please see the attached Fact Sheet for additional information on these grant programs, and for other assistance available through the Recovery Act, please visit <http://www.ojp.usdoj.gov/recovery>.

We hope you find this information helpful. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact OJP's Office of Communications at 202-307-0703.

Sincerely,

Laurie O. Robinson
Acting Assistant Attorney General

Formula Funding for Internet Crimes Against Children Task Forces
Pursuant to the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009

Introduction/Background

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Recovery Act) included a direct appropriation of $50 million in grant funding for Internet Crimes Against Children (ICAC) initiatives which will be administered by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP).

The ICAC Task Force Program helps state and local law enforcement agencies develop an effective response to cyber enticement and child pornography cases. This program encompasses forensic and investigative components, training and technical assistance, victim services, and community education. There are currently fifty-nine state and local task forces in the United States representing over 2,000 federal, state and local law enforcement and prosecutorial agencies. These agencies are engaged in proactive investigations, forensic examinations, and effective prosecutions. By helping state and local law enforcement agencies develop effective and sustainable responses to online child victimization and child pornography, OJJDP and the ICAC program have built capacity at the local level to address technology-facilitated child exploitation offenses. To further support state and local law enforcement and prosecutorial agencies in this area OJJDP provides training and technical assistance, data and communication infrastructure, and supports research and data collection to further our understanding of the scope of technology-facilitated child exploitation in the United States.

In 2008, Congress passed the Providing Resources, Officers, and Technology to Eradicate Cyber Threats to Our Children Act of 2008, (P.L. 110-401, codified at 42 USC 17601, et seq.) ("the PROTECT Act"), which authorizes the ICAC program. The OJJDP developed the funding formula in collaboration with the Bureau of Justice Statistics and the Office of Justice Programs Office of the General Counsel. The formula adheres to the provisions of the PROTECT Act.¹ This formula will be used to disburse funds allocated to ICAC Task Forces under the Recovery Act and under future appropriations for the ICAC program. Following the requirements of the PROTECT Act, OJJDP established the following formula allocations:

| ICAC Task Force Formula Funding | | | |
|--|-------------------------------|---------------------|--|

The Act also reserves discretion for the Attorney General to identify additional factors to include in the formula.

HOW TO APPLY FOR GRANTS

OJP encourages all interested applicants to register to apply for funding. Potential applicants need to obtain a DUNS (Data Universal Numbering System) number and register with the Central Contractor Registration (CCR) registrant database. A DUNS number is a unique number that identifies an organization and helps track the distribution of grant money. The CCR is a central repository of organizations working with the federal government.

Applications must be submitted through OJP's online Grants Management System (GMS).

To access the system, please visit:

<https://grants.ojp.usdoj.gov>. Registration with the OJP GMS is required prior to application submission. First-time applicants should begin the process immediately to meet the GMS registration deadline.

The registration process for organizations includes: (1) Obtaining a Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number; (2) Registering your organization with the Central Contractor Registration (CCR) database; and (3) Registering with GMS prior to applying. Applicants with existing GMS accounts do not need to re-register, rather they should use current user ids and passwords to access GMS.

Most state agencies and units of local government (towns, townships, villages, parishes, cities, counties, and other general purpose political subdivisions of a state) have already established a DUNS number. First tier subawardees must also have a DUNS number and register with the CCR. Please check with your grants administrator or chief financial officer to see if your organization has a DUNS number. To obtain a DUNS number, call the Dun & Bradstreet (D&B) Customer Resource Center at 1-866-705-5711 or visit <http://fedgov.dnb.com/webform/displayHomePage.do>.

To verify or renew a CCR registration, visit <http://www.ccr.gov>. If your organization is not registered with CCR, identify a primary contact who should register your organization. Keep in mind that your organization must receive a DUNS number before it can register with CCR. Organizations must update or renew their CCR registration at least once per year to maintain an active status. Please allow up to three weeks to complete the CCR registration process.
